The Slovak-made Strazan water purification tanker truck can purify 50 l of water a minute to provide clean drinking water using any source of water during droughts, emergencies or military operations, says local distributor Zero7Health CEO Tatiana Lhotsky.

The versatile 6 × 6 truck is able to access remote locations and cross rough terrain to supply purified water using membrane filtration without requiring any chemical dosing. The tanker can carry 8 000 l of water and can also be used to fight fires, says Zero7Health executive director Thoba Karl-Halla.
