

The NonProfit Blogs

Latest Headlines from the NonProfit Blogs

Tanker offers instant purified water solution

Saturday, 10th May 2014 - 10:59

The Slovak-made Strazan water purification tanker truck can purify 50 ℓ of water a minute to provide clean drinking water using any source of water during droughts, emergencies or military operations, says local distributor Zero7Health CEO Tatiana Lhotsky. The versatile 6 x 6 truck is able to access remote locations and cross rough terrain to supply purified water using membrane filtration without requiring any chemical dosing. The tanker can carry 8 000 ℓ of water and can also be used to fight fires, says Zero7Health executive director Thoba Karl-Halla.

Go to Source

No tags for this post. (...)

Read the original article....

Previous post:

« The barriers of knowledge generation, storage, distribution and application that impede learning in gas and petroleum companies

Next post:

Knowledge-Sharing Boosts Development Know-How, as Practitioners and Policymakers Meet in Mombasa »

SEARCH NONPROFITBLOGS

LATEST ARTICLES

Global Humanitarian Funding Reaches Record Highs

The Impact of Local Charity on Development: A Sri Lankan Case Study

Dawnings — CBF's congregational initiative invites transformation

The Archbishop and the CEO: reflecting on strategy and the courage to change

Washington DC's Career Africanists

NEWS ARCHIVES

STAY UPDATED

Daily updates via Email:

MY OTHER SITES:

The Road to the Horizon
My House on the Road
Blog Tips for Non-Profit
AidNews
AidBlogs